THE H. TINKER,
FOR AND MANAGER, FLAGSTAFF, YAVAPAI CO., ARIZONA.

URDAY, MAY 26, 1888.

The circulation of the CHAMPION is quite 12,000 but we expect it to be in the next 30 days.

The Gallup Register requests delinquent patrons to pay up, that it can print the Register in own, instead of the Albuquerque office, where it is now published.

The Courier still persists in its advocacy of the P. & A. C. ension, and the bankruptcy of Yavapai county. This measure is par with the other principles of mocratic "economy."

EXTENSIVE preparation for the service of Memorial Day, May 26th, are being made in Flagstaff and the day will be honored by our people with the most appropriate and impressive services.

Our persistent friend sister Elva Lockwood, again bids senely up as candidate for the residency on the Equal Rights platform adopted at Des Moines, Iowa. Shades of Maria Halpin, that will become of Grover now!

The Albuquerque Democrat is till slinging mud at the Santa Fe allroad. Still the Santa Fe rains all make connections on time and pay off as though Albricht had never mauled the corporation into retireable ruin with his little men.

To the Prescott Courier: "People who seem to know what they are talking about" and people who really possess knowledge of what they speak, are entirely distinct and separate varieties. Those who have been imposing on Bro. Marion's weakness should desist, even though it be a pleasing pastime.
There is capital in Flagstaff which says the P. & A. C. shall not further rob Yavapai county, and wealth possesses an effective style of articulation.

CLEVELAND and reform go well together; that is, if reform means nothing. The President uses force to compel Congressmen to vote for the Mills bill. If any one refuses, the White House Mogul vetoes the Congressman's bill for a public building in his district, and there you are. Such infamous political methods have never before disgraced the country. And Cleveland grows more haughty every day.

The Democrats in the House mean to delay a vote on the tariff bill until after the Democratic National Convention, hoping that the action of the convention will drive doubtful Democrats to the support of the bill. To accomplish that purpose will require from a Democratic Convention the almost unprecedented achievement of making a straightforward, clear-cut declaration of principle. It is so long since the Democracy has had any principles that it doesn't know what to do with them. Dodging issues is more in its line.

T. G. Norris, in his speech nominating J. C. Hemmick, said as delegates to the National Democratic Convention, called into play some of the most extravagant metaphors it has ever been our pleasure to read. For instance, he referred to the genial district attorney as pos-siding the happy faculty of "winning the young men from the ranks of republicanism," and "immerging them in the Holy Ghost of Democracy." In presenting a picture of such an extraordinary and unique method of baptism, Bro. Norris let his volatile imagination slop over.
The dry bones of the Democratic ghost present an uninviting front to the progressive young men who adorn the Republican party, but possibly the orator intended a figurative reference to the prevailing "spirit" of the Democracy—the bourbon variety—in which case his swelling splurge in metaphor becomes more practical. He also flattered Mr. Herndon by comparing him with a Plymouth Rock chicken as a distinctive Democrat.
It was a mighty dry time for Herndon, with nothing soothing closer than Pete Bolan's hip pocket.

ENLARGED.

THE CHAMPION greets its readers this week in an enlarged form.
The unusual press of advertising has made it necessary for us to add a column to each page, in order that our reading space might not be too deeply encroached upon.
The length, as well as the number of our columns has been added to, which gives us the extreme pleasure of presenting our readers with nearly five extra columns of matter which we have striven to make new and interesting.

If our readers appreciate this improvement as fully as we appreciate the reasons which make it necessary, we shall feel abundantly repaid for the labor and expense contingent to the undertaking.

In comparing today's issue of the CHAMPION with numbers dating previously to the purchase and management of the paper little over two years ago, we cannot but feel some pride in the very apparent improvement, and as the success of a newspaper in every instance depends on the merit which justifies liberal public patronage, we believe the pride is pardonable.

The papers are indulging in much cheap sentiment about the recent incident of the introduction of Gen. Joseph E. Johnston as a "contributing member" of a Grand Army Post. What they say as to the fraternization between the soldiers of the Northern and Southern armies is all true enough, but they seem to forget that this frater-nization began even during the war, and has continued ever since on all fitting occasions and under circumstances properly admitting of it.
But no amount of fraternization or good feeling can transform a Confederate veteran into a Union veteran, or a Union soldier into an ex-wearer of the gray. Whatever the respect or the courtesy that may be due to an ex-Confederate soldier he is no more entitled to admission to a Grand Army Post than a volunteer officer is to admission to the association of Alumni at West Point, or a Harvard graduate to a class meeting of Yale. This goodwill talk about the war being over cannot alter this, and such talk is particularly offensive when addressed to Union veterans who, as General Johnston himself testifies have always been ready to follow-ship with the Southern soldiers, even to the extent of contributing to the establishment of homes for their relief. As a matter of fact Genl. Johnston is not a member of the G. A. R. and the CHAMPION is of the opinion he never will be.

GEN. ATKINS, the best commissioner of Indians affairs our country has ever had, is going to resign.—Courier.

Bro. Marion has the cheek to thus enlorge the weakest, most inefficient figure of official ineptitude that ever disgraced the Commissioners chair. From an obscure town in Tennessee, he filled all the minor offices subject to his prerogative in the Indian service, with a horde of friends and relatives, who have materially added to the roster of Atkins' unprecedented era of mismanagement and incapability. The horrible condition of the largest Indian agencies in the country, notably the Navajo Agency of Arizona, shows how deserving this model official is of the praise lavished on him by the Courier.

The latest "victim of tobacco" is a sad case, indeed. He is seventy years old, has smoked for sixty years, and last week he married a woman four years his senior.
Tobacco smoking affected his brain.

Scully's filly, Hypocrite, was An ammonia tank exploded recently in Cincinnati, filling the air with the fumes of the drug, thereby asphyxiating nearly all the small birds and animals in the neighborhood, together with a horse, which responded to the alarm of fire sent out.

"Happy Jack," who tried to run over an engine lately, is fast recovering. His ear, which only hung to his head by the nearest shred of skin, seems to be reattaching itself in good shape, so that on recovering he will not even be disfigured.—Gallup Register.

It is stated at army headquarters in Washington that reports regarding the illness of Lieutenant General Sheridan are very much exaggerated. He seemed to be suffering from fatigue or overwork, and Monday last he decided to remain at home and rest for a few days, but has not been confined to his bed.

An inhuman wretch by the name of Greenwood, shot and killed his had been seduced by Bryant before her marriage, and her father was enraged at her shame. She was 17 years of age. Greenwood will be lynched, if captured.

The Albuquerque Citizen says: New Mexico journalists are proud of Mrs. Flora Ellice Stevens, of Chamberlain, Rio Arriba county. She is a graceful writer, a practical printer and a model wife. A few days ago she presented her husband a son, and the old man has already dedicated as the future publisher of the Northwest New Mexican.

The Emperor of Brazil appears to be stricken with paralysis. He has lost power of speech and his breathing is labored. Oxygen was forced into his lungs and caffeine was injected into his skin with the result that he became less inert and partially conscious, but there is little hope of his recovery.

Prince Augustus of Coburg, Don Pedro's son-in-law, and Dr. Charcot, of Paris, have been summoned to the emperor's bedside, and the last sacrament has been administered to him.

The Gallup Register has the following spicy item in its Wingate correspondence: During an altercation Tuesday evening Thomas Baisley bit off a piece of John Roger's left ear. Sergeant May came to Roger's rescue, when Baisley drew a knife and resisted arrest, whereupon May promptly knocked him down with his pistol, and took him to the guard house.

A Horrible Inheritance.

The transmission of the fearful effects of contagious blood poisoning is the most horrible inheritance which any man can leave to his innocent posterity; but it can be certainly and safely guarded in the majority of cases, prevented by the use of the antidote which Nature furnishes, and which is found in the remedy known all over the world as Sarsaparilla.
Sarsaparilla—commonly called "S. S. S."

Mr. J. H. Brown, of Homestead, N. Y., writes: "These years I suffered with this horrible disease, Swift's Sarsaparilla cured me completely."

Prof. H. W. Briggs, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "I was a perfect wreck from Blood Poison. Swift's Sarsaparilla restored health and vigor, and I am well today."

C. W. Langhille, Savannah, Ga., writes:
"I suffered long with Blood Poison. I tried Swift's Sarsaparilla perfectly, and was cured."

A. W. Burt, of Power's Hotel, Rochester, N. Y., writes: "It is the best blood purer I have ever used. I have recommended it to a friend and he has made him well."

Mr. E. J. Simpson, of the Southville, Ga., writes: "I was a perfect wreck from
health and vigor, and I am well today."

A. W. Burt, of Power's Hotel, Roch-

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar composition, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article.
A Boston lady writes: "I was a perfect wreck from Blood Poison, and I am well today, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me to buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their was just as good; that I might take it on ten days' trial, that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other."

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's

pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of me. Mrs.
ELLA A. GORR, of Terrence Street, Boston.

NO BOOM!

The Post-office is doing a good business every day in the Money Order Department and the Express Com-town is dull, and the mer-goods, are not busy.

If the P. O. officials and Express Companies were less busy, you would find that the town would be lively instead of being dead. I am selling
